

THE WEAVING COLLECTIVE

The Weaving Collective presents a luxurious collection of alpaca creations, carefully sourced from the Peruvian Andes. Using the finest and most exceptional fibers, each piece is the result of a collaborative process where skilled artisans play a vital role in bringing these timeless designs to life. From selecting the fibers to weaving and finishing, the craftsmanship reflects both the heritage of alpaca weaving and a commitment to sustainability. We prioritize eco-friendly methods throughout production, ensuring that each creation is as kind to the earth as it is beautiful. A portion of every sale is reinvested into the growth and development of Andean communities, empowering artisans and preserving their traditions for future generations.

FACTORY CERTIFICATIONS

WRAP certification is recognised around the world as proof of social compliance in the apparel industry. WRAP ensures that our factory operate in a safe, responsible and ethical manner.

Peru Carbon Footprint is an official tool of the Peruvian government that recognises how public and private organisations manage their greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions for the benefit of the environment.

BASC certification is designed to secure and facilitate international trade based on trust and confidence by confirming the control work carried out in all production, packing, shipping and transport processes.

Bio Trade Peru confirms that the certified company operates according to the Bio Trade model, with mechanisms for the conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity through a sustainable chain.

This certification confirms our commitment to principles such as opportunities for disadvantaged producers, transparency, fair trade practices, promotion of fair trade and respect for the environment.

RECYCLED THROWS

At The Weaving Collective we use our own wastage of woven fabrics and yarns, as same as recycled polyester, to give them a brand new life and transform them into an everyday product, such as blankets and throws.

Technical details:

The percentage of recycled material used in each garment depends on the model and the customer's requirements.

It is possible to use recycled nylon.

As each batch is manually sorted, colour and composition may vary slightly from batch to batch.
